ALLOWABLE SUBJECT MATTER

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 3-19-2004 was considered by the examiner.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1-20 are allowed over the prior art of record. These claims recited an apparatus for charging toner particles prior to being delivered to a development delivery device, comprising: a blower for generating an airborne stream in a chamber; a dispenser for dispensing toner particles in the airborne stream so that the toner particles are entrained in the airborne stream in the chamber; means for subjecting the airborne stream of toner particles to unipolar gas ions at an ion charging zone in said chamber, said subjecting means includes subjecting includes: a first charging device, positioned on a wall of said chamber in said ion charging zone, for charging the airborne stream of toner particles with; and a second charging device opposed from said first charging device so that the airborne stream of toner particles transported to the ion-charging zone between the first charging device and the second charging device. The prior art of record does not teach or suggest unipolar toner charging device having a blower and opposing charging devices.

Prior Art

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Hays (2004/00184840 A1), Thompson, Hirth, Takagi et al., Matsumoto et al., and Fujii et al. all teach pertinent prior art.
